NOTICE.

Two catalogues: "A Choice Collection" and "A Cheap Collection" are mailed with these circulars. They form the remainder of the edition, and customers will please remember when ordering that some of the items have already been sold. The greater portion, however, still remains, and orders can generally be filled or nearly so. Many items are also still on hand from catalogues of "Wholesale Lots" and "Paper Money," recently issued, the edition of which is now exhausted.

With this mailing, the cataloguing for present season will close, as the undersigned expects to leave early in July on an extended trip and to visit a number of his business friends at their homes. Business will be resumed in September, when a determined effort will be made to clear nearly the entire stock of coins with a view of practically retiring from active business. The stock is so large (about $50,000 in value) that it may take another entire season to bring it into the desired shape, but rates will be made very low—cost or less being the general rule, with probably a series of auctions to accelerate the reduction.
